1952 STATE CONVENTION PROCEDURE

Delegates to the State Convention—Method of apportionment of delegates to the 92 counties and also apportionment of delegates within each county remains unchanged.

Credentials of Delegates—The certificate of election, signed by the Clerk of the Circuit Court or the certificate of appointment by the County Chairman of the delegate's residence shall constitute the credentials of the delegate and shall entitle him to the floor of the convention.

Designation of Proxies—Any person elected as a delegate or appointed by the County Chairman may give a proxy to any other voter of his county by executing the delegation of proxy form on the back of the certificate of election which he receives from the clerk of the court or the certificate of appointment which he receives from the County Chairman. This certificate of election and designation of proxy shall entitle the proxy to admission to the convention floor, provided that said proxy has been registered with the Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee on or before 6:00 o'clock p. m. (CST) on the day preceding the convention.

Filling the Vacancies—Where no candidate files as delegate to the state convention, or in the event that a candidate dies too late to place the name of another candidate on the ballot, or in the event that a delegate dies after having been elected and prior to the date of the state convention, without having appointed a proxy, the county chairman of the county affected has the authority to fill this vacancy and shall issue to the person appointed the proper credentials. Forms for this purpose are prescribed by the State Election Board and will be furnished by the State Committee to any County Chairman on request.

When a County Chairman fills a vacancy under any one of the above circumstances, the certificate of this delegate must be checked and registered with the Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee on or before 6:00 o'clock p. m. (CST) of the day preceding the convention, so that the names of such appointed delegates may be listed on the official list of delegates and proxies furnished to the convention.

Limitations Placed on Proxies—No person shall be permitted to hold more than one proxy, and no regular delegate will be permitted to hold a proxy of another delegate. A proxy may be held only by a voter in good standing in the county. In other words, no person, either a delegate or a proxy, is permitted to vote more than one time on any election before the convention.

Persons on the Convention Floor—Under the provisions of the convention act, no person shall be allowed on the convention floor during balloting, except delegates, duly registered proxies, inspectors, clerks and mechanical attendants for the machines and watchers, designated by the candidates.

Candidates for Nomination by the Convention—The old law made no provisions for candidates to file their declarations or any time limit for withdrawal. As a result, new candidates sometimes filed their declaration and others withdrew at the last minute before nominations were presented.

Under the present law, all candidates are required to file their declarations of candidacy by twelve o'clock noon (CST) of the day next preceding the state convention with the Secretary of the State Central Committee, after which time, no other candidate's name may thereafter be submitted except in the case of a deadlock or upon the vote of at least two-thirds of the delegates. Before such filing the candidates must pay their assessments to the Treasurer of the State Committee and procure his certification of payment.

No candidate for the nomination for any office at the State Convention shall make any statement to the convention except with the consent of all the candidates for the same office.

Watchers—Any candidate for any office to be balloted upon at the convention may name one watcher for each machine, and this watcher may be present on the convention floor during balloting for the office to which said candidate, who has designated such watcher, is an aspirant.

Designation of watchers by candidates must be filed with the Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee by the candidate, and each watcher will receive a certificate to be issued by the Republican State Central Committee, which certificate will entitle the watcher to be present on the convention floor during balloting for the office in reference to which he has been designated as a watcher.

A watcher designated by a candidate may be on the convention floor only while balloting is being conducted for the office to which the candidate aspires, who has designated each watcher.

Order of Nominations—Under the old law, the order in which nominations were made was determined by the rules adopted at each convention. It has been the practice to make nominations for the most important offices first and leave the least important nominations last.

Under the present law, nominations are either made at one time or if singly the plan is exactly reversed, and the nominations for the most important offices are made last and the less important ones are made first. The statute names the order in which nominations shall be made. The purpose is to induce delegates to remain and participate in the convention until it has completed all nominations.

Avoiding Deadlocks—Under the law, provisions are made to avoid a deadlock of the convention on balloting as to any one office.

This law reads as follows: "In any state convention, hereafter, when the fifth ballot has been taken for any office, and no candidate has received a majority of the votes of said convention, the candidate having the lowest vote for said office, commencing with the sixth ballot and every ballot thereafter, shall be eliminated until such time as some candidate shall receive a majority of the votes of said convention for said office."

Method of Voting—Under the old method of voting, the names of the counties were called alphabetically, and the chairman of each county delegation called the vote of his county. This vote was relayed to the tabulating committee where it was totaled and the result announced to the convention.

Under the present convention law, all candidates are nominated by the use of voting machines, provided, however, that where there is no contest for any office, the nomination may be made by motion and acclamation. Each voting machine will be staffed by an inspector and two clerks and the necessary mechanical attendants, and each county will be assigned to a definitely numbered machine and a list of machine assignments furnished each delegate. Four counties in the state; namely, Lake, St. Joseph, Allen and Marion, will be assigned more than one machine, and the assignment to these machines of the delegates will be made either alphabetically or by wards and townships. Delegates are required to sign a poll list before voting on each ballot.

After each nomination is completed, the vote is counted by the staff of each voting machine and the results are tabulated and enclosed in a sealed envelope and delivered to the canvassing board which shall then tabulate the vote of each machine and announce the result to the convention.
